Alumnae Launch $10,000 Drive To Equip New Clarke Library

A drive for $10,000 is being launched by the alumnae association to help equip a new library building for Clarke.

Margaret Rose Pohlman, national president, announced the goal at alumnae Homecoming in October.

When the Library Fund was started several years ago the alumnae association raised $16,000 for the new building. The drive was discontinued at that time because of the inadvisability of building.

Now that the Library has become an even greater necessity, the executive board has initiated the present drive at the recommendation of Miss Bonnie Hogan, past president.

In her recommendations Miss Hogan suggested that the alumnae "adopt a definite project with a definite goal to be reached before the next biennial meeting in 1954."

Announcement of the $10,000 goal caused an immediate response in the form of donations from several Clarke clubs and individuals interested in seeing the drive succeed.

Contributions for the fund include:
Chicago Clarke club	$200.
Dubuque Clarke club	100.
Ouad-Cities Clarke club	20.
Cedar Rapids Clarke club	50.

Further plans for the drive will be announced in the near future.

Alumnae are also asked to remember in their prayers the husband and 8-year-old son of Yvonne Zupet Langan '42 who were killed in an automobile accident a few weeks ago.

Mt. Carmel Plans Expansion Drive For Motherhouse

At the June convention of the National Federation of Alumni, Sisters of Charity, BVM, the delegates launched a new project—"The Mount Carmel Expansion Program."

Each year the number of those wishing to enter the novitiate increases as also does the number of older Sisters who are forced to retire from teaching duties. But since the erection of the original buildings at Mount Carmel over 60 years ago, there has been practically no enlargement, with the exception of the addition to the infirmary and a new laundry.

The time has come when a campaign to make Mount Carmel grow is a must. During the month of January the Federation will send out a letter asking all BVM alumni for a donation for this project. Clarke alumnae are urged to support the project as much as possible.

October Reunion Helps To Link Past with Present

Homecoming in October this year was a "first" in Clarke reunion history. For the first time alumnae combined the biennial reunion with a visit back to the college in session.

"Linking the past with the present" provided the theme.

Homecomers were re-introduced to their college as it is in 1952 and students were given an opportunity to know the alumnae.

Sister Mary Crescentia, BVM, dean, addressed an afternoon assembly on the subject, "Clarke Today."

Career guidance meetings provided discussions for those who had their professions or future professions in common.

A panel of students explained the Honor System as it influences the lives of girls attending Clarke today.

In a skit Saturday evening students presented a light cross section of activities at Clarke. Alumnae and student met informally at a social which followed the program.

In addition the weekend included the Masses, the jubilarian dinners and the business sessions that are traditional at reunion time.

Margaret Pohlman Elected President At Fall Reunion

Margaret Rose Pohlman, of Dubuque is the new president of the Clarke College Alumnae association. Officers were voted upon at a meeting of alumnae during Homecoming weekend in October.

Mrs. Pohlman succeeds Bonnie Hogan of Chicago who served as president of the Alumnae association for the past two years.

Other newly-elected officers include Frances Mitchell Miller of Rochester, Minn., first vice-president; Eileen Clifford Blaine of Chicago, second vice-president; and Mary Duhigg Neary of Omaha, third vice-president.

Eleanore Rossiter of La Crosse, Wis. is corresponding secretary; Mary Helen Oktanski of Peoria, Ill., recording secretary; and Genevieve Fisher Stack of Chicago, treasurer.

Helen Holmberg of Dubuque was appointed as historian and Helen Joslin of Independence as editor.

Serving on the alumnae executive board with the new officers will be the three most recent past presidents: Bonnie Hogan of Chicago, Mary Meyer Imhoff of Davenport and Mary Lonergan Rhomberg of Dubuque.

Madeleine Brady Crowe will continue on the executive board as chairman of the Alumnae Admissions board.

Clarke Clubs Plan Varied Activities For December Days

The Chicago Clarke club held its annual Communion breakfast Dec. 7, with Mass at Holy Name Cathedral and breakfast at the Seneca hotel. Speaker at the breakfast was the Rev. James J. Kilgallon of St. Gertrudes' parish.

Sister Mary Matilde, BVM, and Sister Mary Philippa, BVM, represented the Clarke faculty. Special guest of honor was Margaret Rose Pohlman, national alumnae president.

Betty Powers Genoar is the president of the Chicago club.

Patricia Graney is chairman of the Christmas tea which Des Moines alumnae are planning for present Clarkites and prospective students in the Des Moines area. Only tentative plans have been made to date.

Sister Mary Anne Leone, BVM, Clarke president, addressed Quad-City alumnae and prospective students at a tea Dec. 6 at the home of Theo Schmid Rock in Davenport. Hostesses were Mary Meyers Imhoff and Mary McGovern, president of the Quad-City Clarke club.

Message of the New President

Dear Fellow Alumnae:

The inspiration drawn from the Homecoming program, the happiness of meeting again with college friends will be to me, as your president, an enduring source of encouragement.

Our Alumnae association has much work ahead. I promise that I shall work with your help to keep our association on an equal pace with our college. In view of the notable progress of Clarke, particularly in recent years, this involves a challenge to our best concerted thinking and action. I am encouraged, however, as I realize from my long personal association with Clarke how blessed we are in an unsurpassed faculty, a tireless Sister coordinator, and nearly 4,000 loyal alumnae all over the country.

As president I am further encouraged by the splendid Executive Board with whom I shall work. But a sad note re-sounds. The retiring past presidents I shall miss on the board. However, almost a lifetime is a long service to expect from anyone, and as our unselfish past presidents relinquish their quiet assumption of tedious duties, but not their interest in the Alumnae, the gratitude and affectionate prayers of our alumnae accompany them.

It is with a good deal of trepidation that I approach the following subject. The alumnae project for the next two years is the raising of $10,000 to go towards equipment for the proposed new library. Increased reading room facilities and provided space for the growing book collection are badly in need. Exerted effort and organized assistance will be asked from every alumnae so that we will reach our goal together. Perhaps you would like to start the kick-off by sending in your personal contribution right now to our alumnae coordinator, Sister Mary Matilde, Clarke College. Donations of any size are welcome.

Not too much importance can be placed on the Clarke Clubs. These Clubs not only further the work of, and give organized strength to the association but give alumnae members a social outlet and the opportunity for renewing the fellowship of college days. It is the wish of your president that many new Clarke Clubs will come into being within the next two years.

Remember, the president of the Alumnae is president for you. If there are any problems, please let me know. This will enable us mutually to give our best efforts to the undertakings of the Clarke College Alumnae association.

Sincerely yours,
 Margaret Rose Pohlman
 National President, Clarke College Alumnae Association

Classes Sing, Decorate Trees At Individual Holiday Parties

Included in the many festive events dotting the season's calendar here at Clarke were the Christmas parties held by each individual class. Seniors, juniors and sophomores held their celebrations on the evening of Dec. 10, while the freshmen will hold theirs tomorrow.

Decorating the huge tree in the parlor of MFCH was the main attraction of the senior party. Seniors, each with an ornament or a handful of tinsel, sang favorite carols while they decorated.

Committees Share Work

Patricia Johann was chairman of the decorations committee. Members of her committee were Kay Hoffman and Sally Thompson. Charlotte Moes, chairman of the refreshment committee, was aided by Charlene Dolphin, Mary Kay Kuhl and Mary Joanne Rhomberg. Rosalie Sullivan and Lois West were responsible for the tree erection.

Sheila Coogan and Mary McGhee were co-chairmen of the junior party which was held in the union. Juniors decorated a tree, played games and collected gifts for the old people's home.

Juniors Plan Entertainment

Carol Connelly and Honore Jones planned the refreshments, and Sally Kelly headed the tree decorations committee. Joanne Grewell was in charge of entertainment.

The activity room was the scene of the sophomore party, where sophomores, too, decorated a tree. Class members supplemented the decorating job by having a grab bag and a visit from a jolly Santa. Joan Madden was the party's general chairman.

Decorations for the tree were chosen by Mary Pfohl, Nancy Macefield, Kathy McSweeney, Rita Jo Walsh and Mary Jo Howerter. Refreshments were served by Mary Flannery, Marlene Francel, Janet Lucy, Musa Martin and Janice Meyers.

Freshmen Celebrate Tomorrow

Immediately after the banquet tomorrow the freshmen will have their party in the activity room. Jeannine Wadon and her committee have planned the evening's entertainment. Margaret Koob is in charge of the gifts which will be exchanged at the party.

Mona Garvey is responsible for the invitations, and Eleanor Lynch's committee will provide escorts for guests. Nancy Kneeland is in charge of the refreshment committee, and Dolores Dolan heads the arrangement committee.

Candlelighting

Evans, freshman class president, will light the candle of joy. Patricia Murphy, sophomore class president will light the candle of peace and Jane Flynn, junior class president, will light the candle of love. Patricia Guay, senior class president, will light the candle of gratitude.

The candle of truth will receive its light from Dorothy Culhane, president of the Student Leadership council. Margaret Rose Pohlman, national president of the Clarke Alumnae association, will light the candle of hope.

Dickensons' Noel, sung by Mary Jane Urban against a background of the voices of the student body, will conclude the program. Accompanists will be Bertha Fox at the piano and Geraldine Hanten at the organ.

Festivities will continue on the less solemn side tomorrow evening. The college faculty will host all students at the annual formal Christmas dinner, scheduled for 6 o'clock.

Evergreen, candles and red streamers will create a festive dining room atmosphere, centered around the Nativity shrine at the head of the room.

Honored guests will be the Most Rev. Leo Binz, coadjutor to the archbishop of Dubuque, the clergy and the lay faculty members.

Clarkites Become Helpers to Santa For Needy People

Needy Dubuque families, orphans and underprivileged people from overseas will benefit from Clarkites' Christmas charity.

Encouraged by the sodality, each class adopted a needy family to play Santa Claus to. Each family will receive a Christmas dinner together with clothing and gifts, especially for the children.

General director of the project is Rosalie Sullivan, sodality prefect.

Children from St. Mary's home found a Clarke Santa Claus in the activity room of MFCH last Saturday afternoon. Each child received a gift.

The merry Christmas spirit that prompted Clarkites to donate clothing to the Bishops' War Relief collection will provide a happier new year for needy people overseas.

All projects are annual undertakings of Santa's helpers at Clarke.

Put Christ Back into Christmas Is Goal of Dubuque Groups

Many active Dubuquers are helping to bring the true meaning of Christmas into the entire civic area. Contributors towards these projects are the Dubuque Chamber of Commerce, the Dubuque Catholic Mothers' clubs and the Catholic Women's circles.

According to Mr. Robert A. Leader, adviser to the Chamber of Commerce, the coordinated Christmas program is a long-range plan. It does not attempt to reform but to restore the real Christian concept of Christmas.

Mr. Milton Engelbrecht, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce contacted merchants in the city and asked their support. As a result many Christmas decorations have been renovated and new ones added. Dubuque residents and others might take note of the new bells swinging from the Illinois-Wisconsin bridge.

Decorations are scattered over a wider area this year so that more people may see them. The Edison and Telephone companies in the city contributed the new lights that deck Main street.

Outdoor cribs can be seen in Washington square and Jackson park. Mr.

Betty Schneider Speaks Of Lay Apostolate Work At Friendship House

The work of the lay apostolate in the twentieth century was the subject of a speech given by Betty Schneider at Clarke on Dec. 2.

National director of Friendship House, Miss Schneider gave her speech here as one of a series of talks at various colleges and seminaries throughout the country. Located in Chicago, Friendship House is the headquarters of a sociological movement to better interracial relationships. Miss Schneiders' discussion was sponsored by Clarke's Human Relations commission of the NFCCS. Patricia Browne, campus chairman, introduced the speaker.

Questionnaire Survey Gives Favorable Report on Alumnae

by Helen Joslin, '52

Frances Mitchell Miller's careful study of the returns on the Alumnae questionnaire issued a year ago is highly revelatory. Of the 2300 questionnaires mailed, 342 were returned before the deadline, 23 more too late for classification.

The majority of Clarke graduates are homemakers. 56% of those answering the questionnaire were married, 31% single, 13% members of religious congregations. Of the entire alumnae group, however, 64% are married—12% more than the Time survey indicated as average for graduates of women's colleges.

Education Meets Needs

The education received at Clarke seems in general to have met both personal and professional needs. 85% of the answerers were gainfully employed after leaving Clarke, 61% of those who married being so employed up to five years after leaving school. Of the employed, 89% were working in fields for which their Clarke education had prepared them. 66% of the married alumnae felt that their Clarke training prepared them adequately for their task of homemaking; others indicated that additional preparation would be valuable, but only 7% stated that they felt inadequately prepared.

Clarke alumnae are active in the communities in which they live. 91% report that they participate in some civic, religious, cultural, or social organization in their community, 34% in three or four such organizations, and 19% in five or more. 98% feel that Clarke has prepared them to take part in such activities.

Only 39% of those answering had

Snow Introduces Wintertime Sports

Clarkites can have "snow fun"—and "snow wonder"—by taking advantage of winter sports facilities during the coming months.

Toboggans are available for those hearty enough to enjoy some time "next to nature" on back-campus. Ice skating enthusiasts will find Mrs. Wilbur Dalzell of the physical education department, a willing source of information on Dubuque sports opportunities.

Indoor sports to anticipate are basketball, badminton and ping-pong. The bowling league will continue its activities throughout the winter. Sports participation is open to everyone.

suggestions for the college, and many of these suggestions referred to changes which had already been made. Only 56% of alumnae who held free tuition scholarships while at Clarke felt a responsibility for subsequent financial help to the college. And only 33% had any suggestions about the Alumnae association. These data indicate that even our most interested alumnae are not so aware of the needs and activities of the college as they might be.

More regular attendance at reunions—49% of the answerers indicate that they never attend—is one answer to the problem of how to keep alumnae posted. More faithful payment of dues is another answer. Only 60% of the answerers pay their dues regularly, though 97% are interested enough in Clarke activities to wish to remain on the mailing list.

Alumnae May Visit

Third way for alumnae to keep in touch with the school is through visits to faculty members, and through correspondence with them. 46% of the alumnae who answered have maintained contact with several faculty members since leaving school, 37% with one, 10% with many, and 7% with none.

A further means of maintaining contact with Clarke is through the organization and maintenance of local Clarke clubs. Of the 50% who live in communities where a local club is in operation, only a little more than half belong; 50% of the answers come from areas in which there is no club. One of the most gratifying results of the 1952 reunion is the inauguration of a number of new Clarke Clubs, to which Alumnae are urged to affiliate.

Faculty Express Belief

It is the confident belief of the Clarke faculty and of the Alumnae officers that the more closely our alumnae keep in touch with the activities and aims of Clarke the prouder they will be to own it as their college. It is our further conviction that such alumnae will be glad to help further the work of their college through interest in her endeavors, financial assistance, favorable publicity, and prayers. Clarke College needs her alumnae, and her alumnae need Clarke.

Sophs Participate In NFCCS Panel

Mary Ann Huber and Joan Madden, Clarke sophomores, were among the speakers at the Mariology workshop at Loras last weekend. Sponsored by NFCCS, the group of representatives from the five schools of the Iowa region discussed the Blessed Virgin as the mediatrix of all graces.

Miss Huber represented Clarke in the morning panel, speaking of "Mary's Role in Faith." Miss Madden's topic was "Mary in Life." Representing Clarke at the afternoon functional workshop was Hettie Gilmore, campus Mariology chairman.

The Liturgy commission of NFCCS also met at Loras last weekend. Jane Calkins, campus Liturgy chairman, represented Clarke at this session. Theme of the meeting was "The Practice of the Liturgy in College Life."

Registrar Reports First Dean's List

Grade point averages of 3.4 or over brought 14 students positions on the dean's list for the first quarter. Marion Lifka, freshman English major from St. Mary's high school in Chicago, headed the list with an average of 3.94.

Jane Calkins, Ottumwa, history, 3.71, led the seniors on the list. Others were Peggy Humeston, Albia, biology, 3.56; Marjorie Costello, Peoria, Ill., drama, 3.46, and Rosalie Sullivan, Chicago, chemistry, 3.4.

Juniors on the dean's list were Ann O'Hara, Hazelcrest, Ill., sociology, 3.78, and Bertha Fox, New Haven, music and English, 3.53.

Sophomores with top scholastic averages were Mary Ann Huber, Monroe, Wis., music, 3.65; Mary Jo Howter, Des Moines, biology, 3.63; Lois Wissel, Dubuque, history, 3.50, and Joan Madden, Milwaukee, English, 3.47.

Freshman honor students in addition to Miss Lifka were Geraldine Rogalski, Chicago, biology, 3.76; Geraldine Ryan, Dubuque, Spanish, 3.71, and Patricia Willging, Dubuque, biology, 3.59.

Seniors Here Hostess Loras Seniors at Social

Santa Claus attended the Yuletide social, when Clarke seniors entertained their fellow classmen from Loras in the MFCH activity room Dec. 12.

Entertainment consisted of Christmas caroling and games. Admission fee for each person was a gift for an orphan. Patricia Guay, senior class president, supervised the affair.

—as the editor sees it . . .

it happens here

let's face it . . .

maybe it's a crime to look as if you've left some place in a hurry, but Benny Coogan felt like a condemned woman when two policemen stopped her as she was about to board a bus for home. Seems the officers were sleuthing for a run-away and thought the suspicious looking Benny might be the object of their search.

another arresting situation . . .

confronted Jerry Adams during Thanksgiving vacation while she and her fiancé Jerry Scofield were working on building their future home. After almost being jailed for trespassing on their own property, the two felt that "there oughta be a law"—until they realized that things are lively enough as they are!

one for the files . . .

("if-we-only-knew" department) is the question Marice Moylan asked as she entered the office recently: "Say, how do you get ahold of someone at Loras?"

einstein wouldn't approve . . .

of Mary Phoff's scientific accuracy, but her fellow chem students felt she expressed their sentiments most appropriately when she referred to infernal instead of internal ether.

oh, for a carrier pidgeon . . .

was the thought of Nancy Kneeland and JoAnn Klein when there were only a few hours left before the sophomore soiree and the girls still hadn't been able to contact their Loras dates to tell them what time to be here. The frantic freshmen finally resorted to Western Union with an emphatic plea to "Please deliver the message by 8 o'clock!"

you can always learn . . .

something new we found out when we scanned the college calendar and mentioned to Courier moderator Sister Mary Michail (whom we thought we knew fairly well) that she'd probably be attending the faculty-freshman party in January. "Oh, but I'm not a freshman!" said Sister.

and have you heard . . .

about Dubuquer Darlene Fischer, who signed the Thanksgiving departure list, naming her home address as her destination and giving the Seminary bus as her means of transportation?

not a very good sport . . .

is Michaeline Fu's grandmother, according to Mickey's account in speech class of her grandmother's first impression of a basketball game. Mickey told of how her elder quickly tired of watching the teams' mad scrambling. "Is rich enough school," she told Michaeline. "Why can't afford to buy every boy a ball?"

gentleman of distinction . . .

almost every time he visits June Kuba is Loras' Bob Rolheiser. Could be that Bob's unique automobile is the reason why, before he ever reaches the MFCH desk, the station 8 amplicall is likely to ring out with: "June Kuba, you are about to have a guest!"

Annual Campaign For SLC Officers Begins Next Month
Nominations for president and vice-president of the Student Council for 1953-54 will close on the first week in February. Candidates will be chosen from the sophomore class, and all balloting will take place under the clock.

Professional primaries are scheduled for Feb. 4. Any girl receiving 20 or more votes is automatically nominated. Each nominee appoints a campaign manager who speaks on her behalf on the following morning. After each girl has personally addressed the student body, the election will take place. The candidate with the majority vote is elected, and in the case of a tie, a final election will be held on Feb. 9.

The election of a vice-president will take place the following week according to the same pattern, with the primary scheduled for Feb. 11, and the election for Feb. 13. If the new president is a resident student the vice-president must be a city student, and vice versa.

Following their election, the two officers will attend the weekly meetings of the Student Affairs Forum in order to acquaint themselves with its procedures.

The office of secretary and treasurer will be filled in April from the present sophomores and freshman classes.

Classes to Report For Registration

Registration for second semester classes will take place during examination week, Jan. 26 to 28.

All students must report for registration between the hours of 8:20 to 10:00 and 1:00 to 4:00.

Registration periods are assigned by class. Seniors register Monday afternoon, juniors Tuesday morning.

A registration fee of $2.00 must be paid by anyone who wishes to register before or after the day assigned.
